General responsibilities:

- Consistent and accurate inter and cross team communication regarding key projects and tasks to reduce duplication and increase collaboration.
- Ensure Welsh Women's Aid works within relevant legal and regulatory frameworks with a particular focus on safeguarding, health and safety, data protection, equal opportunities, and quality assurance frameworks, undertaking risk assessments for activities as needed.
- Ensure Welsh Women's Aid delivers best practice in promoting intersectionality and achieving equality and diversity across all services and functions.
- Take direction on projects and priorities from your line manager, which may vary.
- Responsible for undertaking any other duties appropriate to the position.

Working at Welsh Women's Aid

In addition to a competitive salary, most of our roles can access the following:

Health & wellbeing:

- Contributions to optician check-ups.
- Access to a 24-hour employee support service, including access to in person/online counselling, legal & financial advice and other benefits.
- Clinical supervision sessions to support you in delivering your role.
- Regular team catch ups (virtual and in person) to get to know colleagues and peer support.

Pension:

6% employer pension contribution following completion of a 6-month probation period.

Time off:

25 days of annual leave per year (pro rata), plus additional days in recognition of all recognised bank holidays. Overtime is unpaid; time off in lieu is to be taken in collaboration with your line manager.

Personal learning & development:

WWA supports staff in identifying and pursuing opportunities to attend or undertake training and personal development opportunities. This can include, but is not limited to, training courses, conferences, access to learning materials and secondments.

Variation clause:

Welsh Women's Aid reserves the right, following full and reasonable consultations with the members of staff and their trade union or other representatives, to vary, add to or alter any of the terms and conditions of employment attached to this post.

This job description will be reviewed annually and may need to be revised according to the priorities of the current workload with the agreement of the Executive Board and the CEO.

The performance of the post holder will be monitored through regular supervision by the line manager and reviewed at each annual appraisal. The post holder is expected to produce regular reports for monitoring and review by their line manager and Chief Executive as required.

Recruitment Process

Applying for a job with Welsh Women's Aid:

Diversity, equity, and inclusion is at the heart of our recruitment process, as a result we use a person-centred approach. This means we do not use CVs in our application process. Instead, we believe in hiring the right person with the right skills, something not always reflected in a CV. Our application process aims to give you a chance to tell us about previous experiences and current skills that match our essential criteria for the role.

Before you fill in the application form look at the person specification (pg. 2) and decide how to relate your skills, knowledge, and experience to each point. We believe in the value of transferrable skills, so if you've got previous experience that demonstrates a skill, knowledge or understanding in the person specification tell us about it! It doesn't have to be previous paid work either, it could be a volunteer opportunity, a community commitment or even responsibilities or duties you have picked up in the home.

To be considered for an interview you will need to tell us how your skills, knowledge and experience match the essential criteria from the knowledge.

Ways to apply for a role at Welsh Women's Aid:

There are 3 different ways you can apply for one of our open roles:

Shortlisting:

After the closing date, the application forms are considered very carefully to see how each person's skills and experience relate to the skills and experience in the person specification. Applicants who best meet these requirements are shortlisted for interview. Applications are anonymized prior to shortlisting to reduce bias and only the relevant sections are seen by the shortlisting panel. Whilst we have an equal opportunities form included in our application process this is not seen by the panel and is merely used to inform our recruitment reports.

Interviews:

The interview panel is normally made up of two or three people who ask each candidate questions covering the relevant criteria, to allow you to expand on your application and show how you meet the essential requirements of the post. Depending on the role, you may be asked to complete a task/presentation either at or before the interview. You will have the opportunity to ask questions about the job and about working at Welsh Women's Aid at the end of the interview.

Panel members keep a record of their assessment of each applicant so that the reasons for their decision are clear and consistent.

Feedback:

If you are unsuccessful and feel that feedback on your interview would be helpful in applying for other jobs, please contact us at recruitment@welshwomensaid.org.uk and a member of our recruitment team will arrange this for you.

Due to the nature of the work we undertake, working for WWA is a rewarding but potentially challenging environment. Our HR and Recruitment team are available if you would like to have an informal chat about the role or if you have specific accessibility requirements you want to discuss with a member of our recruitment team, you can call us on 02920 541 551 or send an email requesting a call-back to recruitment@welshwomensaid.org.uk.

Putting Women & Children First

Our vision and purpose

We want a world in which women and children live free from domestic abuse, sexual violence, and all forms of violence against women, and by doing so achieve independence, freedom, and liberation from oppression.

Our values and approach

Welsh Women's Aid is a feminist organisation, and our values are founded on commitments to human rights, anti-discrimination, and freedom from oppression. We endorse global evidence that violence against women, domestic abuse and sexual violence is gendered, a cause and consequence of the unequal position of women and girls in society, a violation of human rights, and is entirely preventable.

Our approach is founded on the following value-base:

We are feminist and value diversity of lived experiences – we amplify diverse voices, recognising that identities and life experience impact on experiences of abuse and access to support, safety, and justice. We advocate ending violence against women and girls alongside the liberation of all women and girls from multiple oppressions like sexism, racism, classism, homophobia, ageism, ableism, transphobia, to attain social justice for all.

We promote integrity – we are accountable, and place survivors' voices and their lived experiences central to our work. We encourage respect, transparency and learning from experience, we challenge misuse of power and promote social responsibility in all we do.

We collaborate – we work with survivors, specialist services, other organisations, individuals, and communities, to capacity-build services and to evidence and deliver what works in preventing violence against women, domestic abuse, and sexual violence.

We empower – we advocate a rights-based approach so that all women and children can achieve their full potential, and we promote services led by and for women/minoritised groups as being vital to meeting needs and to achieving social, economic, and political liberation from patriarchy, racism, and other oppressions.

We transform – we are committed to challenging inequalities and discrimination, to combining high-quality services with activism for social change, and building a movement that ends violence against women and girls and liberates women and girls from multiple and intersecting oppressions to benefit everyone.

Our values and approach underpin our work nationally and that of our members. We are committed to building Change That Lasts which supports survivors of all forms of violence against women, and their children, to build resilience, and leads to independence through a strengths-based, needs-led, trauma informed approach to all our work.
